

ULI New York hosts "NY2020: The Future of the Manhattan Skyline"

NEW YORK, NY Urban Land Institute New York (ULI New York) has hosted a sold-out program entitled "NY2020: The Future of the Manhattan Skyline," which was held on Wednesday, January 15th at Wilkhahn Showroom.

Lynne Sagalyn, Earle Kazis and Benjamin Schore professor of real estate and director of the Paul Milstein Center for Real Estate at Columbia Business School, moderated a panel of developers, architects and urbanists.

•for full story visit nyrej.com•